Thoughts from Pastor Maureen

Isaiah 43:1-2 But now thus says the LORD, he who created you, O Jacob, he who formed you, O Israel: Do not fear, for I have redeemed you; I have called you by name, you are mine. 2 When you pass through the waters, I will be with you; and through the rivers, they shall not overwhelm you; when you walk through fire you shall not be burned, and the flame shall not consume you.

The prophet Isaiah wrote these words to a people who were living in exile in Babylon. They remembered the difficult journey to get to Babylon as they trudged over desert sands and forded dangerous rivers. They also believed the promise of God that they would eventually be allowed to return to their homes in Israel. Because of these memories they were both apprehensive and hopeful.

The prophet Isaiah brought encouraging words to them. First, do not be afraid. Second remember that you belong to God. Third, an acknowledgement that although the journey will be difficult, that God will be with them.

Vasa Congregation is about to embark on the journey of finding new pastor. God's words apply to this congregation just as they did to the Israelites.

First, do not be afraid. It's easy to be apprehensive, especially when there is so much turmoil in the world around us. Recently Bishop Hassanally reminded us that God's word encourages us exactly when we are stressed and anxious. We should strive to avoid fear.

Second, remember that Vasa Congregation belongs to God. God may have used God's servant Dr. Norelius to establish this place, but God is also the one who poured out the Holy Spirit upon every member and every pastor that served here so that this congregation might thrive.

Third, I acknowledge that my retirement means that you are going to undergo a bit of testing. There will be a void that will need to be filled. It might feel a bit like you are walking through fire. But God reassures us that if that should be the case, "you shall not be burned."

Vasa Congregation has always relied on God to lead it into the future and into new endeavors. Remember the orphanages that were established which led to Lutheran Social Services. Remember the thousands of people that this congregation fed through the Community Dinners. There will be new opportunities and new endeavors to participate in God's work in the world and your new pastor will help you.

Blessings to you in the new year,
Pastor Maureen

January 15, 2026

To the congregations, members, and friends of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America in Minnesota:

We, the six ELCA bishops in the state of Minnesota, are writing today with a word we hope will anchor and sustain all of us in the days to come.

In recent weeks, several thousand ICE and Border Patrol agents have been sent to our state. Their tactics of stopping and questioning our neighbors and their aggressive interactions with the communities where we live have caused fear and anxiety. We grieve the killing of Renee Good on January 7.

All of this comes after other experiences of devastating violence in recent months and years.

We are tired, and our hearts are broken. Yet we are not deterred.

At every act of violence, we have seen you respond with compassion and resilience. This has been a season marked by profound grief. It is also a season in which we have refused to be defined by what the baptismal liturgy names as “the forces that defy God.”

To our pastors, deacons, chaplains and ministry leaders, we say this: we are with you. We give thanks for your faithful leadership, for your courage and discernment, and for all the ways you live into the vocation we share. Dear friends, we believe you have been called and anointed for ministry in this time and place. It is our honor to serve with you.

To all members of our congregations, and our neighbors throughout Minnesota, we say this: we commit ourselves to continue to pray, to advocate and act alongside you, and to use the resources and gifts we have to work toward the fulfillment of the reign of God, so that all may know the abundance of life Jesus comes to give (John 10:10). We encourage you to remain connected to one another and actively support the efforts in your communities to meet the needs of those directly impacted in this time of fear and intimidation.

This past Sunday, congregations across our state marked the Baptism of our Lord. It is a celebration and remembrance of the moment when Jesus himself was baptized, and the voice of God broke through the heavens to declare, “This is my Son, the beloved, with him I am well pleased” (Matthew 3:17).

We believe the voice of God still speaks. We know that all our neighbors bear the image of God. Through the waters of baptism, we have been named and claimed as beloved children of God.

It is our sure confidence in this truth that sustains us. We know we are God’s children, and we know that you are, too. We pray that this truth will continue to anchor, guide and compel all of us as we work for justice for all people in every place.

We also know there are voices around us that challenge the truth of who we are and who our neighbors are. It is our fervent hope that every one of us would remain deeply rooted in our identity as God’s beloved. To that end, we write with a word of encouragement: go to church or your place of worship, ground yourselves in Scripture, and surround yourselves with those who will echo the voice of God for you. This is the nourishment that will sustain us.

Along with Presiding Bishop Curry, we “join calls for a thorough investigation into this case, accountability for the shooting and a de-escalation of ICE enforcement across the United States.”

When the challenges that surround us are overwhelming, we cling to what is true. We serve a God who sees us and who enters into the beauty and messiness of human life in the person of Jesus the Christ. Because of what God in Christ has done, we know that God is with us and we are not alone (Romans 8:38-39).

Until the day the reign of God arrives in full, we continue to work for justice and peace, grounded in prayer, rooted in Scripture, and compelled by the power of the Holy Spirit.

In sure and confident hope,

MARK'S MEDITATION

PAUL'S TWO VIEWS OF SALVATION

February 2026

How does salvation work? It would be great to read what Jesus wrote about a subject. But he did not leave us with any writings. Therefore, it is often best to go to our earliest author: Paul. Paul's most "systematic" text is his epistle to the Romans. Here Paul lays out his understanding of the Christian faith; including his understanding of why we need salvation. The thing is, he describes two somewhat divergent ideas for how salvation works.

His first idea, found in chapters 2-5, is the easier one; the one we find in many hymns and sermons. This is the premise that Jesus's death was a payment (atonement) for our shortcomings (sins), and that salvation (from death) comes from faith in this idea.

(Romans NLT translation) <sup>2:23</sup> For everyone has sinned; we all fall short of God's glorious standard. <sup>24</sup> Yet God, in his grace, freely makes us right in his sight. He did this through Christ Jesus when he freed us from the penalty for our sins. <sup>25</sup> For God presented Jesus as the sacrifice (the atonement) for sin. People are made right with God when they believe that Jesus sacrificed his life, shedding his blood. ... <sup>5:1</sup> Therefore, since we have been made right in God's sight by faith, we have peace with God because of what Jesus Christ our Lord has done for us. <sup>2</sup> Because of our faith, Christ has brought us into this place of undeserved privilege.

However, starting in chapter 6, Paul goes deeper; and more mystical. Here he describes sin, not as a verb--something you do, but as a noun--a cosmic power that enslaves us.

<sup>7:17</sup> I am not the one doing wrong; it is sin living in me that does it.

Paul likely concluded that sin is a noun (a spirit), not a verb, because the 1st century Mediterranean area appeared to be teeming with spirits and demons. He thought "this must be the cause of self-destructive behavior"; the kind of behavior that people appear helpless to resist. Of course, today medical science has moved beyond such superstitions. Yet, Paul's understanding can be a useful metaphor for the divisions we see in American today. We seem to be helplessly careening off a cliff. Who will save us?

The good news is that Christ's death and resurrection represent a victory over this cosmic force; one that we get to participate in through baptism.

... <sup>6:3</sup> have you forgotten that when we were joined with Christ Jesus in baptism, we joined him in his death?

<sup>4</sup> For we died and were buried with Christ by baptism. And just as Christ was raised from the dead by the glorious power of the Father, now we also may live new lives. ... <sup>11</sup> you should consider yourselves to be dead to the power of sin and alive to God through Christ Jesus.

<sup>6:23</sup> For the wages of sin is death, but the free gift of God is eternal life through Christ Jesus our Lord.

Here Paul says that God graciously and freely separates us from sin through His son, Jesus Christ. This gift includes eternal life--which, according to Paul, we will receive at the end of time. (Which he thought was coming very, very soon.) In the meantime, Christians are "saved" when they acknowledge this great gift they have received. Paul then connects this to Jesus' teachings of grace and generosity that we get in the Gospels. Paul effectively says that when you truly understand this gift, you will just want to be righteous.

2026 Lenten Focus

The “I Am” Sayings of Jesus

Ash Wednesday falls on Wednesday, Feb. 18th this year. The season of Lent will commence with a service in the church sanctuary at 7:00 p.m. Our Scripture reading will be John 10:11-14 where Jesus says, “I am the good shepherd.”

This year’s pilgrimage through the season of Lent will include a soup supper at 5:30 in the Lutheran Center. At about 6:00 we will worship by singing Holden Evening Prayer. This service will include a brief meditation on the “I Am” saying of Jesus from the gospel of John.

February 18th— I am the Good Shepherd (John 10:11-14)

February 25th— I am the Bread of Life (John 6:35)

March 4th— I am the Light of the world (John 8:12)

March 11th— I am the Gate/Door (John 10:9)

March 18th— I am the Way the Truth and the Life (John 14:6)
